AMUSEMENTS.

When Tim Murphy was playing "A Capitol Comedy" in Chicago he had a draft for sixteen hundred dollars stolen from him. It was in his street suit which he had changed for his dress suit before going to the theatre in anticipation of a supper afterwards. The sneak also got away with about three dollars in change. Mr. Murphy makes a rule of keeping the number of drafts so he at once stopped payment and says he would cheerfully lose the three dollars to see the thief try to collect the other.

"A Capitol Comedy" which Mr. Tim Murphy is to present at the Grand on next Thursday night is, as the name implies, a story of Washington life. Though a play full of natural and realistic situations and characters, both Paul Wiltach, the author, and quaint comedian who is so successful in the leading role repudiate the charges made at the capital that men and women of natural prominence are made the central figure of the play. A prominent resident of Washington pursued the theory so far as to prepare an alibi between the initials of the leading characters in "A Capitol Comedy" and the initials of the conspicuous Washingtonians, whom he claims are dramatized in the play. As the list was sent to Mr. Murphy it was promptly destroyed to prevent its reproduction. There may be some relation between the story of "A Capitol Comedy" and the dramatic story of real life well known to gossips in Washington which has caused Mr. Murphy to draw the veil of secrecy over the story of his play. But if there is anything in the theory of the similarity of initials be is evidently willing that the public guess for themselves, for the cast is already public property. The most conspicuous characters are Joel Gay (Mr. Murphy), Senator Dinamore, Edgar Dinamore, Senator Bert, John Paslows, Murray Thorpe, Louise Dinamore, Mrs. Mason and Emily Garrison. Prices: 25 cents to $1.50.

Mr. Green McDonald, of this county, has purchased of F. Devine, agent, of Mason county, the Edward Stevenson farm, for $7,500. Mr. Devine is a brother-in-law of Mr. George Altmeyer, the cigar manufacturer, of this city.

New Pullmans for Big Four.

The Big Four has just received from the Pullman Shops two strictly new private compartment sleeping cars, the Carolina and Arkansas, which will be operated between Cincinnati and Chicago on the train leaving Cincinnati at 8:30 p. m. daily.

The Big Four trains leave from Central Union Station, Cincinnati, where direct connection is made with all trains from Kentucky, the South and Southwest, avoiding Omnibus transfers. The entrance into Chicago is through Pullman, Ill., and along the shores of Lake Michigan.

The new cars differ from the general run of sleepers of this class in that all compartments are on one side of the car and each room can be made strictly private, or two or more rooms can be opened into each other, en suite. This feature makes the cars very desirable for parties desiring more than one compartment.

The rooms are all handsomely furnished in Birds-eye Maple, Oak, Mahogany, Birch and Cherry. Each room contains a full length mirror, washstand, hot and cold water, curling iron heaters and complete toilet accessories. These cars are the finest that have ever been built by the Pullman Company and represent a large outlay in money. (31jan-tf)
